CHUGACH ALASKA CORPORATION TEAM RECEIVES TOP AWARDS FOR 2016 ALASKA RUN FOR WOMEN

(Anchorage, Alaska) – The 2016 Alaska Run for Women awarded Chugach Alaska Corporation (Chugach) first place for having the largest team and raising the most money in support of the annual event. The Chugach team comprised of 245 employees, friends and family members that raised a collective $12,051 in donations.

Chugach has sponsored the Alaska Run for Women for the past several years, which brings together participants from across the state with a shared vision of raising money for and awareness of breast cancer and women’s health.

"Our Chugach family has been affected by breast cancer, so this is personal for us," said Angie Astle, CFO. "We are proud to support our family, friends and the Alaska community of breast cancer warriors in this fight and plan to continue until we can all run a victory lap."

Chugach’s business is intimately tied to the Alaska community, where its corporate headquarters and many of its Alaska Native shareholders are located. One of Chugach’s core employee behaviors is a commitment to build community through volunteer work, charitable donations and community engagement with organizations like the Alaska Run for Women.
